

Lecture two

English conversation part 2

3. Work Experience

After that, you move on where you work and your job, by mentioning the nature of your job, whether you are for example a teacher, doctor or engineer..., and then mention the name of the place you work in, whether a school, hospital, or the company to which you are affiliated, and the period and time since you joined this work place, so that your answers are complete and accurate.

Example:

- ✓ I am a programmer.
- ✓ For software company.
- ✓ Since 2017 till present time.

4. Hobbies

After that, you can talk about your favorite hobbies and activities, and you practice them continuously or from time to time, and the hobbies may be related to the personality somewhat, which indicates your interests and abilities. Each of us has his favorite hobbies such as reading, drawing, or playing a favorite sport, getting to know New people... and other hobbies and activities.

A basic method you can use when talking about hobbies, interests, or activities that you always love to do.

Example:

- ✓ My hobbies are reading and playing football.
- ✓ My hobbies are watching TV and cooking.
- ✓ My hobbies are diving and hunting.

5. Personal Skills

And then talk about personal skills, which are the work that you do distinctly, and you have the basic knowledge of this skill, for example, some computer skills such as the use of Word and Excel, programming and the use of design programs, the use of modern technology, also speaking languages such as English or French ... and others.

Example:

- ✓ I can use computer as (word- excel...) very well and I can use it at work.

These were the most important points to keep in mind when you are required to talk about yourself in English, and the answers may vary, of course, depending on situations, whether you are introducing yourself just to meet new people, to study somewhere, or also to get a job.

Some important tips when introducing yourself in English

- + Think about the types of questions you are asked, and then the response may vary.
- + Practice answering simple questions when talking about yourself.
- + Listen carefully to the questions, to prepare the answer in accordance with the questions that are asked to you.
- + Give complete answers and be specific at the same time.

The English language does not depend on memorization only, but on actual practice and striving to develop all language skills, whether reading, writing and listening, and thus you can apply what has been learned in reality through conversations to gain confidence and achieve the dream of mastering the English language.
